

Key Challenges Facing Quotient's Federal Government Clients

Mission: Connect key members from across the nation that set policy on our nation's educational assessments

Web and Mobile Application Services

“Build convenient and efficient platforms to disseminate resources and enhance collaboration during meetings.”

Case Study: National Assessment Governing Board (NAGB)

The National Assessment Governing Board's (NAGB) mission is to set policy on our national educational assessments. The Governing Board is an independent, bi-partisan group consisting of 26 members. Members come from all across the nation to meet quarterly and make decisions including the subjects assessed, the frameworks on which the tests are based, and the questions students take. These meetings require members to review materials, attend sessions, and gather resources. Information was sent by email to members with materials attached for the upcoming meeting. Members are given iPads at the start of their term to help aid them in their duties.

PROBLEM WAS:

- Materials were not centralized.
- Material distribution and version control was difficult to manage.
- Multiple 3rd party apps were necessary for access to disseminated data. (5 aps - 4 for access 1 for input)

SOLVED BY:

- Brainstorming approaches to solve members need and how they work.
- Creating secure member access portal website using Adobe AEM to house and centralize information.
- Creating enterprise iOS app custom for Board Members and Board Meetings.

RESULTS WERE:

- Up-to-date materials and information
- Easy and accessible platforms built catered to the specific needs of members.
- Content can be easily updated and modified by staff.
- One-touch access to all resources needed for meetings.